CKLA skills strand focus: CVC decodable words w/letters: n, h, s, f

The season of winter holidays is upon us and our students are so excited! It is so enjoyable to be in their presence as they share with each other the wonders they're experiencing! So, it's with careful planning that we continue to keep some normalcy in each school day! Encourage your child to be a good listener during these last 2 ½ weeks before break. ☺

The Kindergarten teachers have decided to do a fun Holidays around the world rotation with all our classes on this Thursday, Dec. 7th. Our classroom will be Italy (of course!). I hope your child will be able to share with you something they learned from each "country" they visit!

If your family celebrates a holiday during this time of the year, you are welcome to come in and share your tradition with us! In the past, we've had parents present Hanukkah, Christmas, Diwali, and Ramadan.

We will begin Unit 4 in CKLA skills strand and completing and assessing in the Listening and Learning Strand. In math, we have officially begun learning new measurement terms and comparing items by their height, length, and weight. In guided reading, most groups are working on retelling the story they've read. Ask your child to retell the books they bring home to read!

Word Wall Words: a, am, and, are, at, black, blue, brown, can, come, did, do, for, from, go, green, have, he, here, I, in, is, it, like, little, look, me, my, of, on, orange, purple, red, said, see, she, the, they, to, up, was, we, will, with, yellow, you

Quotes from the Hive:

We read a story about a class who brought their parents in and told what their job was. Some of our students' parents actually do some of the jobs...Andre and Emmett each said their mom do them all!
