

Weaver Academy English Dept.
Summer Reading Explained 2020

While the English department is not requiring you to read and annotate chosen texts this summer, we are nonetheless requesting that you read widely this summer.

Challenge yourself by reading texts (fiction and nonfiction, novels, plays, or poetry) that are both thought-provocative and fresh (nothing you have already read before). You can find endless titles at www.commonlit.org , and they are free! And, while you are not required to annotate this material, you are certainly welcomed to.

Be prepared to discuss this text (or texts) when we return to school in August.
