Seagraves shared that the district will begin paying teachers $40 per planning period in which they cover. This cannot be split across days so after much discussion, SLT agreed to the following:

- All Southeast teachers will begin covering full length classes October 27th following the batting order. This will mean we move through the batting order slower than we have been where three teachers cover a class.
- The batting order will be shared schoolwide so that staff may better predict when they could potentially cover.
- All staff will begin getting coverage emails each morning to better predict when they will cover.
- The lunch assignments will also be emailed each morning with the coverage list so that 3rd block planners know when the class goes to lunch.
- If we have available subs, they will be pulled for coverage first.
- SLT will monitor the effectiveness and efficiency of this plan thru October 27-December 7 for review at the December SLT meeting.

Due to the late arrival of buses each morning and afternoon, Seagraves asked SLT to consider stopping our staggered release and dismissing the entire school at 4:25. SLT agreed. SLT was not ready to adjust the morning start time to give buses a few more minutes to arrive therefore decreasing the loss of instructional time bus riders experience. It was requested that a bell ring for the start of 3rd block. SLT agreed. These changes to the bell schedule will begin October 27. You can see the updated bell schedule here: SEHS Bell Schedule
